Have you considered a career in technology, at a startup or just curious about what it’s like to work for a company like Tesla after graduating from Middlebury? Come hear Joe Powers ’06 talk about his experiences in Silicon Valley and engage in a Q&A on the value of liberal arts degrees in an increasingly technology-oriented world.