By HENRY LITCHFIELD WEST.

Brookline Country Club, Brookline, Mass., Sept. 1.—The twenty-sixth amateur golf championship of the United States will start on the picturesque Brookline course beginning tomorrow, when eighteen holes will be played by the entire field, about 165 in number. All the contestants will again play eighteen holes on Monday and the 32 players with the lowest St. Louis AB.H.O.A. Detroit AB.H.O.A. scores at the end of the two rounds will qualify for the match play which will commence on Tuesday. The field is unquestionably the strongest in the history of the game and is thoroughly international in its character, owing to the presence of the British amateur team which recently participated in the Walker cup contest at Southampton. pated in the Walker cup contest at Southampton.

The course, 6.315 yards, with a part @ of 71, is in superfine condition, and owing to the recent rains is not too fast.; The fairways are covered with soft.velvety, springy turf, insuring perfect lies, and the greens, though ricky in their half concealed undulalous are beautiful putting surfaces. The condition of the course ought to lower the qualifying figure to 156 or even lower.

son would repeat the family achievement of twenty years ago.

Three Washington players will be among the starters tomorrow. C. J. Dunphy, of Columbia, is scheduled to start at 10:35, being paired with Charles H. Black, jr., of Atlanta, Marshall Whitlatch, of Chevy Chase, will make his first drive at 9:20, accompanied by G. H. Lyall, of the Belle St. Paul; S. M. Newton, of Richmond, of the Belle St. Paul; S. M. Newton, of Richmond, which were made in the first game, bringing his season's total to 12.

St. Louis, Sept. 1.—St. Louis and Pittsburgh divided their double-standard Oil nine yesterday on the City league series, by defeating the Standard Oil nine yesterday on the City league series, by defeating the Standard Oil nine yesterday on the City league series, by defeating the Standard Oil nine yesterday on the City league series, by defeating the Standard Oil nine yesterday on the City league series, by defeating the Standard Oil nine yesterday on the Union Station grounds, score 7 to 6.

Prior to this contest each team had team won the second, 11 to 6.

Heavy hitting featured both contests, Russell leading the attack by getting three home runs, two of which meadlocked from the mound in Wednesday's encounter back to the mound to stop the Oil men. The Oil men frame. With a five run lead "Finney" Kelly, back to repeat his victory of Wednesday, seemed to become over-confident, and after he was ham-mered for four straight hits account-ling for one run and leaving the bases loaded, he was relieved by Frye. When the side was finally retired the score

The Oil men managed to gct men on second and third in the fifth with two out, but a long fly to Carroll ended the game, which was called on account of darkness. Spectacular fielding in the latter innings materially aided Owen. The intersectional series between War Department and G. A. O. will probably get under way on Wednesday of next week, with their two star moundsmen. Owen and Pfeil toeing the slab. The series will be played in three successive days on the Union station grounds. The section B champions will have Owen, Carroll and Craft available for the mound, while Pfeil, Brown. Smith and Neidfeldi will probably be called upon to serve them up for War.

GRACE CHANGES NAME TO GEORGETOWN A. C.

At a special meeting held Thursday night, the Grace Athletic club decided to change its name to the down with the hit and run he has everything in his favor. Unless the ball is hit too sharply to the outfield under the new name. At the same time the Trinity junior club was taken over as the Grace Junior Athletic club. The club, which will have teams in all branches of sport, hopes to develop into one of the most representative clubs in the District.

Manager Kearney has issued a call for grid candidates to report at the club have a called for the runner to be advenced by the hit and run and do way with the sacrifice. Tilden defeated Patterson by scores of 7-5, 10-8,

If the Americans win the famous silver bowl it will be safe for another year. The loss of the doubles, however, will put it up to Tilden and Johnston to win at least one of the two remaining singles to be played on Labor day, when Tilden crosses rackets with Anderson, and Patterson faces Johnston.

There were times in the Tilden-Patterson match. especially in the first two sets, when a break in the luck might have given the powerful Australian at least a set from his American opponent.

While Patterson forced him into deuce sets in the first two periods of the match critical observers were inflied to believe that Tilden always had something in reserve. This appeared to be borne out by the fact that when he turned on the full power of his offensive his ability to immediately check the rallies of Patterson became clearly evident.

Deen Court Drives.

Tilden also showed far better con trol and conception of stroking alter nating hard driven deep court drives delicate slices and sharply cut balls which barely cleared the net and his change of pace repeatedly caught Patterson out of position and unpre-pared for the unexpected stroke. The Australian depended almost entirely on hard driving and many of his re-turns were too fast and well placed for Tilden to reach, but he failed lamentably when he endeavored to soft returns.

His only advantage in this position was when he could reach a high ball with his overhead smash, which put a finality into the stroke beyond question. Neither player showed any question. Neither player showed any particular tendency to lob, and Tilden was able to maintain a more sustained net attack than Patterson, due in part, to this lack of lobbing at critical moments of the play.

The Johnston-Anderson match was more er less much of an anti-climax following the sustained struggle which preceded it. It required 1 hour and 10 minutes for Tilden to defeat. Just how much effect Anderson's recent illness had on his play will perhaps never be known, but certainly the Australian was no match for Johnston today. was no match for Johnston today.

RED SOX AND NATS IN DOUBLE-HEADER TODAY

A double-header will be staged at the Florida avenue grounds this afternoon, with Manager Hugh Duffy's Boston aggrega-tion as the guests of the Nationals. Teddy ("Lefty") Brogan is slated to report today from the Charleston team of the Sally league, and if he is not too tired from his trip Manager Milan expects to start him in one of the battles: otherwise Johnson and Zachary will be named. The first game starts at 2 o'clock. Bostor will also play a single game here tomorrow, with the Ath-letics slated to meet the Griffs in a twin bill here Monday, be-

No such uncertainty existed in the Johnston-Anderson match, the lithe, flery-headed Californian dashing through three sets as though eager to catch a train for the far coast before dark. ## SPEAKER CLAIMS BASEBALL IS FASTER AND SMARTER

Cleveland, Sept. 1.—"Baseball is faster and smarter today," Tris Speake says, "than when I broke in." And Tris has been "in" for some time; yes, quite some time. Speaker had some interesting things to say about base ball. "The lively ball has made a noticeable shifting in tactics," he says. "When I was with the Red Sox we played for the one run, and our policy was that the other fellow had to get two to beat us. We went after that one run and did everything in our power to protect it. In those days if a team scored five runs in one inning everybody talked about it, and now they talk about the team that doesn't make five runs in an inning.
